Brehon laws. Brehon laws, Gaelic Feineachus, ancient laws of Ireland. The text of these laws, written in the most archaic form of the Gaelic language, dates back to the 7th and 8th centuries and is so difficult to translate that the official renderings are to some extent conjectural. The ancient Irish judge, or Brehon, was an arbitrator,...

Early Hebraic Practices of the Celtic Peoples. We have shown before that at least part of the Celtic inhabitants of Britain at some time must have practiced part of the Mosaic Law before they became Christian. We know however that most of the Ancient inhabitants of Britain, before they became Christians, were pagans.

At this time, Ireland was a simple agricultural society. Irish art had begun to develop. The people had come as invaders, and more invaders followed from Britain, France and Spain. Ornaments, coins and weaponry from the Bronze and Iron Age have been uncovered by archaeologists. The Romans never conquered Ireland, although it is a matter of controversy whether they actually set foot on the island.
